Hi I now live in Hampshire but lived and worked in the Hythe area for over 25 years , I found out about Princes Parade and the building that is planned for the area, I lived at West Hythe and have seen the fields flooded and some bungalows flooded on the Penny pot Estate, we had the Mayor and the local MP at the time to come and have a look so putting all them houses on Princess Parade are not going to help were is all the water from run off from the roads and houses going to, I gather into the canal its not the new houses that will flood but it will back up to Hythe and West Hythe that will be in trouble its because the there is two ways for the canal to drain out the main one is at Seabrook and a smaller out flow at West Hythe going into the new cut these are controlled by what state the tides are please look what is happening to the weather and rising sea levels, A lot of local people and holiday makers and wildlife in joy Princes Parade one of the few open lands in the area I strongly object to the plans that has been put forward Many thanks G Collins
