Self-declaration on used cooking oils and fats (UCO) for biofuel production according to Directive 2003/28/EC under ISCC EU.

Only biomass defined as the biodegradable fraction of products, wastes and residues from biological origin from agricultural (including vegetable and animal substances), forestry and related industries including fisheries and agriculture, as well as the biodegradable fraction of industrial and municipal waste (Directive 2000/28/EC)

- ☒ The delivery consists entirely of used cooking oil (UCO) and is not mixed with fresh oil. (please be aware, that animal fat is not considered biomass in some Member States. Biofuel produced from a feed-stock of animal origin might thus not be eligible to be counted against the biofuel quota in those Member States.)
 - The cooking oil is entirely of vegetable origin (vegetable oil which has been used for cooking or frying meat and therefore may be contaminated with animal content does not classify as animal origin.)
 - The cooking oil is entirely or partly of animal origin (eg: lard, butter, tallow)
- ☒ Documentation of quantities delivered is available.
- ☒ Applicable national legislation regarding waste prevention and management (eg: Transport, supervision, etc.) are complied with.

Note: In signing the self-declaration, the signatory acknowledges that the auditors from certification bodies, ISCC staff and inspectors from national bodies (if applicable) can examine whether the requirements are met, as stated in this self-declaration.

Used Cooking Oil Collection Terms & Conditions:

- Service complies fully with UK waste regulations
- Minimum of 60 litres of used cooking oil is required for a free collection and the 20p/tr voucher. If the collection is below 60 litres it will be collected but no voucher issued.
- 60-litre collection barrels are available for a deposit of £14.50+VAT, refundable on return of the drum
- If you arrange a collection and on arrival the collector is unable to collect 60 litres, due to a customer driven issue, a charge of £30+VAT will be made to cover the wasted journey
- Collection container must be sealed and not leaking to prevent spillage during transport
- Oil must be accessible on ground level at point of collection. Any decanting of oil into containers must be carried out by staff on site.
- You require a waste transfer note/duty of care note for audit purposes and it must be retained for two years. The collector will hand this to you with the voucher for 20p/tr attached
- The voucher value is subject to change
- Vouchers must be redeemed in the branch within 28 days of issue
- Cooking Oil must be purchased from Booker/Makro to use the recycling service
- £4 per 20 litres is credited against purchase once presenting the voucher at reception.
- The customer must be the producer of the waste oil and not acting as a collector for other businesses
